Timothy P. Mack, Ph. D.

School of Graduate Studies and Research
Indiana University of Pennsylvania
Indiana, PA 15701

Phone: (724)-422-2244
Email: tmack@iup.edu

I. Education:

Year	Institution	Degree
1981	The Pennsylvania State University	Ph.D., Entomology
1979	The Pennsylvania State University	M.S., Entomology
1975	Colgate University	B.A., Biology

II. Career Summary:

2009-present Dean, School of Graduate Studies and Research, Indiana University of Pennsylvania. I also serve as the chief research officer.

2007-2009 Dean, College of Graduate Studies, Georgia Southern University

2004-2007 Associate Dean for Information Technology and Distance Education, College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Virginia Tech

2000-2003 Assistant Dean for Information Technology, College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Virginia Tech.

1994-2003 Head, Department of Entomology, Virginia Tech

1993 Acting Head, Department of Entomology, Auburn University

1993 Professor, Department of Entomology, Auburn University

1986-1993 Associate Professor, Department of Zoology-Entomology, Auburn University

1981-1993 Assistant Professor, Department of Zoology-Entomology, Auburn University

III. Leadership and Strategic Expertise:

- Leadership Training. Harvard Business School Executive Education "High Potentials Leadership Program," Boston, MA. 2006.
- Development Training. Fundraising For Graduate and Professional Schools. Council For The Advancement And Support Of Education (CASE). Charleston, SC. January 2008.
- Teaching. Won two national teaching awards, and is in Who's Who Among America's Teachers. Has taught more than 4,000 students.
- Research Experience. Has 246 refereed and non-refereed publications, $6.3 million in grants, including a $820,000 grant that began Oct 1, 2009. Led an Entomology Department where three patents were granted in 9.5 years.
- Threat Assessment Training. PASSHE Threat Assessment Workshop, Harrisburg, PA. February 2010.
- Sponsored Programs and Technology Transfer Training.
  - Essentials of Academic Technology Transfer workshop, Association of University Technology Managers, Atlanta, GA. October 2009.
  - Financial Research Administration Workshop, National Council of University Research Administrators, Washington, DC. September 2009.

- Long-Term USDA NIFA Contract. Technical Leader and co-PI of FAEIS, the Food and Agricultural Education Information System since 2001; with an annual budget of about $250,000. FAEIS compiles nationwide higher education data for the life, food, veterinary, human, natural resource, and agricultural sciences. It also serves as a repository for faculty salary information in those disciplines. More than 300 institutions nationwide submit data annually on about 160,000 undergraduate and 32,000 graduate students.
- Distance Education. Led development and obtained grant funding for 12 online graduate courses leading to a Master's degree in career and technical education. Led the development and assisted in obtaining funding for an online Master's degree in Agricultural and Life Sciences, with 28 web-based courses.

IV. Highlights of Recent Grants Funded:

Marchant, M.A., T. P. MACK, and E. Smith. 2009-2012. Improvement and Marketing of the Food and Agricultural Education Information System (FAEIS). USDA-NIFA. $820,000.

MACK, T. P., M. Marchant, and H. D. Sutphin. 2006-2008. Refinement and Improvement of the Food and Agricultural Education Information System. USDA-HEP. $769,257.

MACK, T. P. 2005-2007. Development of an internet data collection and display system for the Board of Human Sciences. USDA-HEP. $28,789.

MACK, T. P. and H. D. Sutphin. 2002-05. Development, Testing, and Implementation of the Food and Agriculture Education Information System (FAEIS). USDA-HEP. $733,778.

MACK, T. P., J. M. White, J. H. Jones, and J. H. Hillison. 2001. A Distance-Delivered Master's Degree Program in Agricultural and Extension Education. Virginia Tech Center for Innovation in Learning. $111,400.

V. Recent Recognition for Excellence:

MACK, T. P. 2004. Who's Who Among America's Teachers, 2003-2004.

MACK, T. P. 2001. Entomological Society of America Distinguished Achievement Award in Teaching- national award. Society has about 6,000 members, and recognizes one recipient per year.

MACK, T. P. 2000. A*DEC Distance education award-outstanding education program, ENT 2004 "Insects and Human Society."Co-PIs were B. Carroll, N. Stone, and R. Mack.

MACK, T. P. 1998. XCaliber Certificate of Merit, Center for Innovation and Learning, Virginia Tech. "For exemplary contributions to course development using technology."

V. Publications Summary:

Item	Number
Books/Book Chapters	5
Refereed Publications	77
Symposia/Published Proceedings	6
Agric. Expt. Station Articles	36
Extension Publications	9
Published Abstracts	23
Other Publications	39
Newspaper Articles	51
TOTAL	246

VI. Course Taught Summary:

University	Course	No. of Times Taught	No. of Students
Auburn Univ.	ENT 204 Insects	3	672
Auburn Univ.	ENT 615 Pop'n Dynamics and Intro. Modeling for Biologists	7	40
Virginia Tech	ENT 2004 Insects and Human Society	17	4,489