The Where To Turn poster contains resources, which are widely used by IUP students.

There are many at the University and within the Indiana community who are committed to supporting students during particularly stressful times. These individuals/agencies will work with you confidentially. If there is a service not listed, any one of the offices listed can assist you to receive the services specific to your current circumstance or please e-mail my-success@iup.edu.

I appreciate your feeling comfortable to speak with me about your personal situation. You are not alone….there are many people who care about your personal growth and well-being, and who are ready to assist you.

Still can't find what you need?
