3. Justification/Rationale for Revision.

As a result of earlier discussions with the university-wide graduate committee, whenever the occasion for revision of a course arises, we have added the prerequisite "sophomore standing; completion of Hist 195 (nonmajors)" to all undergraduate courses that have a dual-level graduate equivalent. This course by course approach resulted in a patchwork of 300-level courses, some of which have the prerequisite inserted while others do not. In subsequent discussions, faculty agreed to insert this prerequisite for all 300 level courses that are not dual-listed as well since it ensures that students have some lower division courses before tackling the higher level courses. This course revision for the 300-level courses is intended to include the prerequisite for 300-level courses that currently do not have it already inserted.
