Study at other institutions and abroad

Students may study at other institutions (U.S. and abroad) during their years at IUP. In many cases, courses from other institutions can substitute for IUP courses. It is the student's responsibility to consult with his/her advisor in a timely manner in order to review the applicability of the proposed program of studies. The student must then complete a pre-approval form in consultation with the Transfer Credit Office. Final approval is contingent not only upon Transfer Credit Office acceptance but also compliance with IUP Spanish Department program policies.

The following courses or credits taken abroad can substitute accordingly:

Pennsylvania-Valladolid IUP Courses	Substitute for
SPAN 382 Contemporary Spain	SPAN 342 20 th Century Spanish Civilization and Culture
SPAN 383 Geography and History of Spain	SPAN 340 Hispanic Civilization Through the 19 th Century
SPAN 385 Survey of Spanish Literature	For B.A. majors: SPAN 260 Introduction to Hispanic Literature, OR if SPAN 260 has already been taken, SPAN 362 Survey of Peninsular Literature For B.S. Spanish Ed. majors: SPAN 260 (If 260 has already been taken, this course counts as additional credits toward graduation)
SPAN 389 Theory and Practice of the Spanish Language	SPAN 350 Advanced Conversation
SPAN 384 History of Spanish Art	For B.S. Spanish Ed.: any other 3-credit course from SPAN 300 or above (except for literature courses) For Spanish B.A.: controlled elective (Spanish 342 or above) For Spanish B.A. Intl. Trade: controlled elective
SPAN 482 Independent Study	For B.S. Spanish Ed.: any other 3-credit course from SPAN 300 or above (except for literature courses) For Spanish B.A.: controlled elective SPAN 342 or above, but not SPAN 410-431. For Spanish B.A. Intl. Trade: controlled elective

Costa Rica Program	Substitutes for
4 Transfer Credits (3 credits to substitute for a required course, and one credit toward graduation)	For SPAN 220 Intermediate Grammar and Conversation, OR SPAN 350 Advanced Grammar, but ONLY if student has already taken SPAN 220 AND SPAN 230
IUP-Cuernavaca, Mexico Courses	Substitute for
SPAN 244 Modern Mexico	SPAN 344 20 th Century Spanish-American Civilization and Culture
3 transfer credits (see below)*	For SPAN 220 Intermediate Grammar and Conversation, or SPAN 350 Advanced Conversation, depending on student's level

In general, a student who participates in the IUP-Mexico program will earn 6 credits. The distribution of those credits depends on what the student takes in Mexico. The possible combinations are these:

- 3 credits from Spanish 244, and 3 transfer credits counted as either SPAN 220 or 350.
- 3 credits from Spanish 244, 3 transfer credits to substitute for an approved 300-level course.
- A student MAY earn credit for SPAN 201 (4 credits) and SPAN 220, but ONLY if they are at the appropriate level AND have been granted permission by the program director. A student who earns credit for SPAN 201 and 220 while participating in the Cuernavaca, Mexico program will then earn 7 credits on the program rather than 6.

Please note: A student may not receive credit for SPAN 350 via participation in the IUP Costa Rica program unless he or she has already received credit for SPAN 220 and SPAN 230. A student can receive credit for SPAN 350 via participation in the IUP-Mexico program if he or she has received credit for SPAN 220, whether or not he or she has already received credit for SPAN 230.

7/23/12: This version of the addendum supersedes all previous versions.
