EDSP 755 Practicum I (3 credits)

This course is designed to provide school psychology students with an opportunity to complete a series of structured observations and interviews in school and community settings pertinent to their understanding of the organization of these settings and the function of a variety of professionals working in these settings. These experiences acquaint students with diverse types of children and refine their understanding of critical issues confronting education. Prerequisite: For approved school psychology candidates or permission of instructor.