

SHRM

SHRM had their advising meeting on Monday. Their homecoming idea fell through because their design was not done on time, they chose not to do anything for homecoming.

IBA

IBA sold homecoming t-shirts and had their meeting the night of our COBSAC meeting. They Skyped the founder and CEO of Caring Matters, a healthcare franchise.

MA

MA had just sold out of their homecoming t-shirts. Their resume workshop went really well and they will be having a Harley Davidson tour at the end of the month!

SMA

SMA was selling homecoming t-shirts, as well and had their meeting the night prior to COBSAC. They have a marketing research project underway with their advisor along with Mass Solutions. They are also working on a Hockey canned food drive. Last but not least, they went to Pittsburgh for a marketing event.

FEC

FEC had their third meeting last Wednesday. Their homecoming t-shirt design had a positive response and they had a meeting on Friday with Dean Camp for a competition at IUP.

AMIS

AMIS has a guest speaker coming in this week, Jack Clause, a Pittsburgh Glasswork Info Tech Manager. The session will be about how to get and keep a job.

SAA

SAA recently had a speaker in from UPMC

PGN

PGN has two presentations coming up in October: one for job searching and internships, another for studying abroad. They are planning trips to tour businesses. They had 28 new pledges during their pinning ceremony on Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday in the Oak Grove (Oct-9-10) there will be a corn hole game with a chance to win raffle tickets for a Penguins game. Speakers from First Commonwealth will be coming in, with one person from each department – they are looking at the week of the 21st but will get back to us with a set date soon.

SMIP

SMIP recently became a credited class, 1 credit per semester with up to 3 credits to count towards your special topic as business majors. They are looking to invest their free cash into current holdings or new companies and will be performing valuations as a group to decide.

SFA

SFA had Jeff from Woodmen of the World, a financial advisory/insurance company, come in to speak on Monday. They had a good turnout and learned a lot about the industry.

Undeclared Business Event

There will be an undeclared business event outside of Stephenson tomorrow, Wednesday October 9th, across from the basketball courts in the grass area, it will be held in a similar nature to the COBSAC Fair. On October 16th there will be another event for undeclared business majors or to help with those choosing a minor or switching majors.

End of Year Party

There will be an end of year party at the Coney, open to all members of all organizations. Becky recently sent an email regarding this, so refer to that for more specific detail!
