VA Work-Study: Get Paid to Study!

If you are a full-time or three-quarter-time student in a college degree, vocational, or professional program, you can “earn while you learn” with a VA work-study allowance.

To learn more, please visit www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/workstudy.asp.

VA Home Loan

A VA Guaranteed Loan is a type of loan made by private lenders such as banks, savings and loans, or mortgage companies to eligible veterans. If you want to purchase a home, condominium, or manufactured home, the VA can guarantee up to $417,000 of the total loan.

This is much higher than you can get with more conventional home loans. If you are considering refinancing an existing loan, the VA offers you two options:

- You can refinance to reduce your current interest rate.
- You can take equity out (cash out). The cash out option is limited to $144,000.

You do not need to finance a down payment on a VA loan. However, certain funding fees and closing costs apply, and you must be able to pay a portion of these fees up-front.

With a VA guarantee, you get a mortgage with a competitive interest rate. The lender that loans you the money is protected against loss up to the amount of the guarantee if you fail to repay the loan.

Visit the Veterans Administration website at www.benefits.va.gov/homeloans for the current table of VA funding fees and information.

Food Stamps

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) will help you purchase food. Many veterans and military members already use SNAP to assist them and their families.
