I. Course Description

NURS 312 Professional Nursing II
2 lecture hours
0 lab hours
2 credit hours
(2c-0l-2cr)

Prerequisites: NURS 212 or permission

Corequisites: NURS 337 or 331 and 333 or permission

Provides the nursing major with a working knowledge of the values, code of ethics, ethical principles, professional standards and legal framework that govern clinical decisions, determine professional conduct, and guide interactions with clients, families, colleagues, and other health care providers. Students formulate an ethical decision-making framework that, by incorporating personal values, professional values, moral concepts, and legal mandates, serves as a guide to professional practice. Using a problem-based approach, students study legal and ethical frameworks that guide professional practice and relate/apply these to actual clinical situations.

II. Course Objectives

At the end of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Apply the professional nursing code of ethics and professional guidelines to clinical practice situations.
2. Use legal and ethical guidelines to advocate for patients.
3. Apply the principles of self determination, well being, and equity as an integral part of the nursing process.
4. Interpret how state nurse practice acts define the scope of nursing practice.
5. Identify appropriate measures to minimize risk and liability.
6. Evaluate strategies that enable individuals and families to make quality-of-life and end-of-life decisions to achieve a peaceful death.
7. Explain and defend beliefs about professional nursing practice in written form.
8. Demonstrate proficiency in formal writing.

III. Course Outline

Week 1
A. Values clarification
1. Assumptions, beliefs, values
2. Ethics vs. law - overview
2 hrs.

Week 2
B. Foundational concepts in nursing that relate to ethics and the law

               2. Physician assisted suicide
               3. Poverty
               4. Resource allocation
               5. Impaired professionals
               6. Chronic illness
               7. Catastrophic illness
               8. Managed care concept / capitated reimbursement
               9. School based clinic provision of reproductive counseling
              10. Telemedicine
              11. End of life care / Advanced directives
              12. Technology and information systems
              13. Cloning
              14. Reproductive issues: frozen embryos, fertility drugs, in vitro fertilization
              15. Genetic counseling
              16. Quality of life
              17. Organ and tissue transplants

Finals Week:  Final Exam
IV. Evaluation Methods

30% - Ethical decision making paper
20% - Exams
20% - Case study analysis
10% - In-class writing
10% - Peer Review
10% - Opinion paper

Grading scale:
A 90-100%
B 80-89%
C 70-79%
D 60-69%
F Less than 60%

*To progress in the Nursing Program, the student must achieve at least a 70% average grade for the course.

Learning Assignments:

In Class Writing
At various times during the semester, the student will write a summary of the material covered in class, emphasizing the important issues and how these relate to professional practice (~100 words). One half (50%) of these summaries will be graded on accuracy, clarity, and writing mechanics (spelling, grammar, sentence structure, etc.)

Writing Circle Participation/Peer Review

Each student will participate in a group by providing peer review of another student's writing. Using guidelines provided, each student will perform a total of 3 peer reviews (1 for each of the written assignments described below). The review forms must be completed, discussed with, and returned to the author. The author will attach the peer review form to the first draft and submit it to the faculty with the final paper.

Opinion Paper

Each student will write a 2-3 page paper logically expressing an opinion about a nursing or health care issue. Examples of the types of topics on which students could write include: “the content of web pages/discussion groups on diseases that are set up by non-health professionals should/should not be monitored;” “psychotic patients with serious physical disease should/should not be considered competent to determine advanced directives for care;” “clean-needle kits should/should not be available to drug addicts to reduce the spread of AIDS;” and “high school students should/should not receive formal sex education.”

Students will submit the first draft to their writing circle for feedback during week 3. The second draft is submitted to faculty for review and feedback during week 4. Students will submit the final paper to faculty for evaluation and grading during week 5. Grading criteria are attached.
Case Study Analysis
Each student will write a 3 to 5 page paper analyzing a case study that presents an issue, frequently encountered by nurses, related to a legal mandate or professional standard. Students must provide support for their analysis drawn from a minimum of two professional journals.

A first draft is submitted to the student’s writing circle for feedback during week 7. The final paper will be submitted to faculty for evaluation and grading during week 8. Grading criteria are attached.

Ethical Decision-Making Paper
Each student will write a 4-6 page paper showing how one ethical decision-making process can be used to resolve an ethical dilemma commonly encountered in health care. The ethical dilemma addressed by the student must be approved by the faculty. The paper should defend the student’s point of view and address opposing/different viewpoints. Prior to writing, the student is expected to explore the literature and locate 4 to 5 articles from professional journals that address this dilemma. At least one article must contain a view opposite from the student’s own position.

Examples of ethical dilemmas include: parental rights vs. minor children’s rights to confidentiality in health care, physician-assisted suicide, the allocation of scarce resources, and the depth of information required for informed consent. Students will present the information gained in their research during class discussions on ethical decision-making.

Students will submit the first draft to their writing circle for feedback during week 10. Students will submit the second draft to faculty for review and feedback during week 11. Students will submit the final paper to faculty for evaluation and grading during week 12. Grading criteria are attached.

Exams
The midterm and final examinations will consist of essay questions requiring the student to address the impact of a selected code, legal mandate, professional standard or ethical principle on clinical decision-making.

Writing Summary: NU 312 Professional Nursing II

NU 312 Professional Nursing II is proposed for identification as a “W” course. The course is taught every Spring and is a required course for nursing majors. All students in the class are in their second year of nursing courses. Most students are in their junior year at IUP although some may have senior status based on credits obtained. The prerequisite for this course is NU 212 Professional Nursing I. Class size is limited to 27.

Since every good writer has an editor, Writing Circles will be created (about 4 students in each circle) for the purpose of peer review. Students comprising each Writing Circle will review the writing assignments of another circle member using guidelines provided, and support them with appropriate encouragement and suggestions for improvement. Peer review will be performed by a different student for each assignment. Class time will be provided.
1. WRITING TO STIMULATE THINKING

At the conclusion of 10 classes, students will be asked to summarize the content of the class, emphasizing important points and how these relate to professional practice in approximately 100 words. This exercise will encourage students to think about how material within the class ties together with clinical activities. One half of these summaries will be graded for a total of 10% of the course grade.

2. WRITING TO CLARIFY BELIEFS/ATTITUDES

Opinion Paper

Students will be required to write an “editorial” expressing his/her opinion on a subject related to nursing or health care. This assignment will be made early in the semester to encourage each student to examine his/her beliefs and attitudes and to present these in a logical and persuasive manner.

This is useful as an initial assignment in a course aimed at helping students to explore personal and professional values. Examples of opinion papers/editorials on relevant topics from professional journals, newspapers, and news magazines will be available for student review. Students will submit their opinion paper to another student in their Writing Circle for review. After receiving feedback, students will submit a revised version to faculty for review and feedback. Guidelines for evaluation, used by both students and faculty, are attached. The opinion paper in final form should be completed within one month of the initial assignment. The assignment constitutes 10% of the course grade.

3. WRITING TO INTEGRATE LEARNING AND PROMOTE CRITICAL THINKING

a. Case Study Analysis.

The student will write a paper analyzing a case study describing a problematic situation commonly encountered by nurses that is associated with a legal mandate or professional standard. The student must provide support for his/her analysis from the professional literature.

The assignment will be between 3 and 5 pages in length. The guidelines for evaluating the paper used by both faculty and Writing Circle members (attached) should also guide the student in writing the paper. This assignment counts for 20% of the course grade.

b. Ethical Decision-Making Paper

Students will identify an ethical dilemma (e.g., when confidentiality conflicts with the public health, or the allocation of scarce resources). The student will identify the problem in ethical terms and proceed according to one ethical decision-making model to a course of action. Once the course of action is chosen, the student must justify the decision, acknowledging the arguments that would be presented from those who follow a different ethical decision-making model and responding to those arguments.

The assignment will be between 4 and 6 pages in length. Guidelines for evaluating the paper, to be used by both faculty and Writing Circle, are included in this packet and will be available to all students when the assignment is made. As in the previous assignments, students are to seek feedback from their Writing Circle and the faculty at appointed times. This assignment constitutes 30% of the course grade.

4. WRITING FOR EVALUATION

Mid-term and Final Exams

Essay questions will be used during examinations to evaluate the student’s understanding of information presented in the course. The questions will require the student to address the impact of a selected code, legal mandate, professional standard or ethical principle on clinical decision-making. Both the mid-term and final exam activity constitute 20% of the course grade.

2. A summary of the proposed revisions – to add new or changed pre- or co- requisites.

Change Prerequisites from NURS 339 to NURS 331 and 333.

3. Justification or rationale – to ensure appropriate progress through the program.

NURS 339 was split into two courses, NURS 331 and 333. This allows the student to be evaluated on Maternal-Neonatal care and care of the child separately. This change would ensure appropriate progression thru the program.

Each student will participate in a group by providing peer review of another student’s writing. Using guidelines provided, each student will perform a total of 3 peer reviews (1 for each of the written assignments described below). The review forms must be completed, discussed with, and returned to the author. The author will attach the peer review form to the first draft and submit it to the faculty with the final paper.

Opinion Paper
Each student will write a 2-3 page paper logically expressing an opinion about a nursing or health care issue. Examples of the types of topics on which students could write include: “the content of web pages/discussion groups on diseases that are set up by non-health professionals should/should not be monitored;” “psychotic patients with serious physical disease should/should not be considered competent to determine advanced directives for care;” “clean-needle kits should/should not be available to drug addicts to reduce the spread of AIDS;” and “high school students should/should not receive formal sex education.”

Students will submit the first draft to their writing circle for feedback during week 3. The second draft is submitted to faculty for review and feedback during week 4. Students will submit the final paper to faculty for evaluation and grading during week 5. Grading criteria are attached.
Case Study Analysis
Each student will write a 3 to 5 page paper analyzing a case study that presents an issue, frequently encountered by nurses, related to a legal mandate or professional standard. Students must provide support for their analysis drawn from a minimum of two professional journals.

A first draft is submitted to the student’s writing circle for feedback during week 7. The final paper will be submitted to faculty for evaluation and grading during week 8. Grading criteria are attached.

Ethical Decision-Making Paper
Each student will write a 4-6 page paper showing how one ethical decision-making process can be used to resolve an ethical dilemma commonly encountered in health care. The ethical dilemma addressed by the student must be approved by the faculty. The paper should defend the student’s point of view and address opposing/different viewpoints. Prior to writing, the student is expected to explore the literature and locate 4 to 5 articles from professional journals that address this dilemma. At least one article must contain a view opposite from the student’s own position.

Examples of ethical dilemmas include: parental rights vs. minor children’s rights to confidentiality in health care, physician-assisted suicide, the allocation of scarce resources, and the depth of information required for informed consent. Students will present the information gained in their research during class discussions on ethical decision-making.

Students will submit the first draft to their writing circle for feedback during week 10. Students will submit the second draft to faculty for review and feedback during week 11. Students will submit the final paper to faculty for evaluation and grading during week 12. Grading criteria are attached.

Exams
The midterm and final examinations will consist of essay questions requiring the student to address the impact of a selected code, legal mandate, professional standard or ethical principle on clinical decision-making.

Writing Summary: NU 312 Professional Nursing II

NU 312 Professional Nursing II is proposed for identification as a “W” course. The course is taught every Spring and is a required course for nursing majors. All students in the class are in their second year of nursing courses. Most students are in their junior year at IUP although some may have senior status based on credits obtained. The prerequisite for this course is NU 212 Professional Nursing I. Class size is limited to 27.

Since every good writer has an editor, Writing Circles will be created (about 4 students in each circle) for the purpose of peer review. Students comprising each Writing Circle will review the writing assignments of another circle member using guidelines provided, and support them with appropriate encouragement and suggestions for improvement. Peer review will be performed by a different student for each assignment. Class time will be provided.

Four types of writing will occur in this course:
1. WRITING TO STIMULATE THINKING

At the conclusion of 10 classes, students will be asked to summarize the content of the class, emphasizing important points and how these relate to professional practice in approximately 100 words. This exercise will encourage students to think about how material within the class ties together with clinical activities. One half of these summaries will be graded for a total of 10% of the course grade.

2. WRITING TO CLARIFY BELIEFS/ATTITUDES

Opinion Paper

Students will be required to write an "editorial" expressing his/her opinion on a subject related to nursing or health care. This assignment will be made early in the semester to encourage each student to examine his/her beliefs and attitudes and to present these in a logical and persuasive manner.

This is useful as an initial assignment in a course aimed at helping students to explore personal and professional values. Examples of opinion papers/editorials on relevant topics from professional journals, newspapers, and news magazines will be available for student review. Students will submit their opinion paper to another student in their Writing Circle for review. After receiving feedback, students will submit a revised version to faculty for review and feedback. Guidelines for evaluation, used by both students and faculty, are attached. The opinion paper in final form should be completed within one month of the initial assignment. The assignment constitutes 10% of the course grade.

3. WRITING TO INTEGRATE LEARNING AND PROMOTE CRITICAL THINKING

a. Case Study Analysis.

The student will write a paper analyzing a case study describing a problematic situation commonly encountered by nurses that is associated with a legal mandate or professional standard. The student must provide support for his/her analysis from the professional literature.

The assignment will be between 3 and 5 pages in length. The guidelines for evaluating the paper used by both faculty and Writing Circle members (attached) should also guide the student in writing the paper. This assignment counts for 20% of the course grade.

b. Ethical Decision-Making Paper

Students will identify an ethical dilemma (e.g., when confidentiality conflicts with the public health, or the allocation of scarce resources). The student will identify the problem in ethical terms and proceed according to one ethical decision-making model to a course of action. Once the course of action is chosen, the student must justify the decision, acknowledging the arguments that would be presented from those who follow a different ethical decision-making model and responding to those arguments.

The assignment will be between 4 and 6 pages in length. Guidelines for evaluating the paper, to be used by both faculty and Writing Circle, are included in this packet and will be available to all students when the assignment is made. As in the previous assignments, students are to seek feedback from their Writing Circle and the faculty at appointed times. This assignment constitutes 30% of the course grade.

4. WRITING FOR EVALUATION

Mid-term and Final Exams

Essay questions will be used during examinations to evaluate the student’s understanding of information presented in the course. The questions will require the student to address the impact of a selected code, legal mandate, professional standard or ethical principle on clinical decision-making. Both the mid-term and final exam activity constitute 20% of the course grade.

COURSE ANALYSIS QUESTIONNAIRE
NURS 312  Professional Nursing II

Section A: Details of the Course

A1 This course will fit into the junior year of the Bachelor of Science degree in the Nursing program. It is a required course for students in the major.

A2 This course is part of the curriculum revision in the Nursing program.

A3 This course has never been offered at IUP.

A4 This course is not intended to be offered as a dual-level course.

A5 This course is not intended to be taken for variable credit.

A6 This material on ethics and professionalism would be included in other baccalaureate nursing programs.

A7 The content in this course is necessary to practice nursing. (Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, State Board of Nursing Professional and Vocational Standards) The information taught in this course is consistent with the test plan for the licensing exam for nursing (NCLEX-RN)

Section B: Interdisciplinary Implications

B1 This course will be taught by one faculty within the Nursing Department.

B2 This course does not overlap with any other courses at the University.

B3 No seats in the course will be reserved for students in Continuing Education.

Section C: Implementation

C1 No new faculty are needed to teach this course.

C2 Other Resources

   a. Current space allocations are adequate to offer this course

   b. Currently Stapleton Library subscribes to a number of nursing journals that would be helpful for students in this course. These journals include: American Journal of Nursing, Nursing Outlook, and Nursing. In addition, the Department of Nursing and Allied Health Professions receives subscriptions to other journals which might be useful to students in this course. These journals include: Research in Nursing and Health, Journal of Professional Nursing, and Journal of Nursing Scholarship. The library also has a holding of references related to nursing. Periodic updates of these holdings are necessary. The department currently has a mechanism in place for identifying needs for updated texts in priority order and recommending future purchases for the library holdings.

C3 No grant funds are associated with this course

C4 This course will be offered in the Spring semester.

C5 Three sections of the course will be offered at a time.
C6  Approximately 27 students will be accommodated in each section.

C7  There are limitations in enrollment in a course of this nature. (IU regulations regarding W)
5. Liberal Studies course approval form and checklist (if appropriate)
