

EDSP 704 Advanced Educational Psychology (3 credits)

An upward extension of educational psychology with a systematic review of current research and learning theory with emphasis on classroom applications, including studies of the organization, administration, and operation of schools.