

PRESIDENT AND MRS. MICHAEL DRISCOLL AND THE UNIVERSITY MUSEUM BOARD OF DIRECTORS
CORDIALLY INVITE YOU TO THE 2013 IUP MUSEUM GALA

Exhibition

"Layers: Places in Peril" Artist Judith Waller and earth scientist Jim Brey collaborate to illustrate environmental threats confronting many of the world's most beautiful cities and natural landscapes.

Live and Silent Auctions

*Masks,
Music,
A Night
In Venice*

SATURDAY - SEPTEMBER 21, 2013 - 6:00 PM

Benefits the University Museum at IUP • $125.00 per person

Cocktails and Appetizers in the Museum

"Layers: Places in Peril" in The University Museum, Sutton Hall

Followed by Dining, Music, and Entertainment Venetian Style in the Blue Room, Sutton Hall

Entrees include seared scallops with micro greens and citrus vinaigrette, frutti di mare, beef braciola, chicken and vegetarian selections.

Desserts include limoncello mousse parfaits, frutti di bosco, and tiramisu parfaits.

Cocktail Attire • Black Tie Optional • Masks encouraged

Masks will be available in the Blue Room, but guests may prefer to bring their own.

Reservations Required • RSVP by September 16, 2013 • For Information: 724-357-2397

Free parking is available in the lot next to the HUB. Free shuttle service will be provided to and from Sutton Hall.

Please visit www.iup.edu/mapanddirections for a campus parking map.