The Vision for IUP's Future

Draft of October 24, 2013

Indiana University of Pennsylvania is a scholarly community where teaching, research, and service shape students into innovative leaders and transform communities in Western Pennsylvania and beyond. IUP continuously assesses social and research needs and opportunities and adjusts to meet them.

Students are well-prepared, hard-working, and from diverse backgrounds. Staff and faculty welcome them to a personal, vibrant college home. Students are part of strong living-learning communities and have many opportunities to grow and lead.

Professors are active scholars in their disciplines. They engage students in open-ended, hands-on experiences to reinforce and enrich what they learn in the classroom. Professors use technology to enhance student learning and augment face-to-face and peer-learning experiences that are the foundation of excellent education.

Alumni say their student experience was the best preparation for work and life. They continue to find joy in the bonds they built as students and the new connections they make with faculty, staff, students, and other alumni. They are proud and they choose to invest in IUP's future.

IUP and the communities it serves work together to build a strong society and abundant economy. Events connect community members, students, faculty, staff, and alumni, building a commitment to their shared future.

IUP Values

Demonstrating an excellent return on educational investment.

Knowing our students by name.

Offering a range of programs responsive to the needs of students and society.

Providing education in appropriate locations throughout western Pennsylvania.

Learning and working in small-town locations accessible to a thriving city.

Enjoying beautiful, functional campuses and facilities.

Using distance learning technology to reach place-committed students.

Celebrating engaged, successful alumni.

Strategic Visioning Project Team Interviews

Concurrent session groups will discuss these aspects of the draft vision:

1. Transforming students

IUP helps talented, prepared, motivated students from all backgrounds to create their success.

2. Responsive curriculum for the future

IUP adjusts its curriculum to help students successfully tackle current and future challenges.

3. Creating the new traditional learning environment

Technology appropriately enhances the effectiveness and efficiency of student learning and augments the face-to-face and peer learning that are key to educational excellence.

4. Educating the whole person

IUP curriculum, sports, clubs, and programming enable students to learn and grow in their classrooms, in the libraries, in the labs, on the playing fields, in the community, and in the residence halls.

5. Right size, right location

The Indiana and satellite campuses provide the opportunities of a large university with a small-campus feel.

6. World-class scholarship serving Pennsylvania

IUP faculty and students work collaboratively in interdisciplinary, engaged research and creative activities that address the region's needs and challenges.

7. Building communities

IUP unites people from diverse cultures, backgrounds, countries, and locations, building life-long friendships.

8. Engaging alumni

Alumni remain actively connected to IUP and other alumni throughout their lives.

9. Beautiful, historic, functional campuses

IUP's spaces and buildings meet tomorrow's needs, connect to our tradition, and inspire us with their beauty.

10. Keeping Excellent Education Affordable

IUP has a diverse portfolio of funding streams that provides financial stability for the future.
