Curriculum:

I. Honors College Proposal—Discussion and Meeting with Caleb Finnegan

- The purpose of the proposal is to allow social science courses to come into the rotation (101, 102, and 201), and matching the unit with the corresponding LS course.
- It was recommended to lay out the curriculum in the catalog similar to that by other departments in the undergraduate catalog. This would allow including the equivalencies to Liberal Studies courses as a footnote.
- There was a recommendation and discussion to revisit the number of credits each honors course is worth, primarily because the current tuition per credit model is a more fair and accurate way to account for the courses taken than the model originally devised.

Meeting adjourned, 4:30pm.
