Rationale: We want to add MATH 111 to our program requirements. MATH 111 is designed to help math education majors acclimate to the university and facilitate cohort-building and student engagement, all of which are indicated by research to improve student retention. Various strategies to improve academic performance and mental well-being will be discussed.

3. Department of Information Systems and Decision Sciences—Prerequisite Modification and Program Revisions

a. Prerequisite Modification:

Current Course Title and Prerequisite:

IFMG 250 Business Systems Technology 3c-0l-3cr
Prerequisite: BTED/COSC/IFMG 101 or COSC 110

Proposed Course Title and Prerequisite:

IFMG 250 Business Systems Technology 3c-0l-3cr
Prerequisite: COSC/IFMG 101 or IFMG 110

Rationale: Modifying the prerequisites to include IFMG 110 which is a new liberal studies elective and dropping BTED 101 since it is being no longer offered. COSC 110 is being dropped since it is a more advanced course as compared to IFMG 101/CSOC 101 or IFMG 110. We treat COSC 110 as equivalent to IFMG 210. COSC majors do not take IFMG 250. If a COSC major transfers to the ISDS department we substitute for COSC 105 for IFMG 101.

Proposed Catalog Description:THTR 331 Improvisation and Creativity*3c-0l-3cr*Prerequisite: THTR 140 or instructor permission Synthesizes short- and long-form improvisation techniques and scene practice. Interprets an overview of improvisation styles and practitioners. Analyzes how social mores, world events, and prevailing attitudes shaped and continue to shape the world of improvisational theater throughout theater history. Culminates in final improvisation performance project.

6. The Department of Chemistry—Program Catalog Description ChangeCurrent Catalog Description:

The BS degree program in biochemistry is a four-year degree curriculum offered as a cooperative program by the Biology and Chemistry departments. This program also offers the Biochemistry minor.

The curriculum leading to a BS degree with a major in biochemistry begins with foundation courses in biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics in the first two years. Specialization in biochemistry commences in the third year with courses in biochemistry, genetics, physical chemistry, special topics in biochemistry, and biochemistry seminar. Completion of one chemistry course as a controlled elective allows students the option to receive a biochemistry degree certified by the American Chemical Society.

A unique feature of this undergraduate program is that biochemistry research is a requirement. After consultation with faculty, the students will define a problem and devise an experimental plan through library research. Laboratory research will be done under the direct supervision of a faculty member. Finally, the student will report on the results of the research in both written and oral forms.

This program is intended for students whose interests lie in a most exciting field of modern science. Graduates can expect to be qualified to enter graduate programs in biochemistry, biology, chemistry, and molecular biology; professional schools in the health sciences; and positions in industrial and government research laboratories and in industrial production facilities.

Proposed Course Description:

The BS degree in biochemistry is a four-year degree, and the Biochemistry minor, are offered by the Chemistry department.

The curriculum leading to a BS degree with a major in biochemistry begins with foundation courses in biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics in the first two years. Specialization in biochemistry commences in the third year with courses in biochemistry, genetics, physical chemistry, special topics in biochemistry, and biochemistry seminar. Completion of one chemistry course as a controlled elective allows students the option to receive a biochemistry degree certified by the American Chemical Society.

A unique feature of this undergraduate program is that biochemistry research is a requirement. After consultation with faculty, the students will define a problem and devise an experimental plan through library research. Laboratory research will be done under the direct supervision of a faculty member. Finally, the student will report on the results of the research in both written and oral forms.

This program is intended for students whose interests lie in a most exciting field of modern science. Graduates can expect to be qualified to enter graduate programs in biochemistry, biology, chemistry, and molecular biology; professional schools in the health sciences; and positions in industrial and government research laboratories and in industrial production facilities.

Rationale: Moving the program from under the college to the Chemistry Department.

7. Department of Communication Disorders, Special Education, and Disability Services— New Certificate, Program Revision, and Crosslisting Courses

a. New Program:

Certificate--Behavior Analysis

Provides the student with the specific knowledge and skills necessary to function as a Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analyst (BCaBA). Courses are aligned to the requirements of the Behavior Analyst Certification Board and satisfy one of the three requirements to be eligible to become a BCaBA. The two remaining requirements, supervised field experience and earning a passing score on the BCaBA examination, are not part of this undergraduate certificate.

Certificate--Behavior Analysis

Required Courses:

EDEX 340	Introduction to Behavior Management in Special Education	3cr
EDEX 435	Methods and Curriculum - Severe Cognitive Disabilities	3cr
EDEX 440	Ethical and Professional Behavior	1cr
EDEX 469	Education of Persons with Emotional Disabilities/Behavioral Disabilities/Learning Disabilities/Traumatic Brain Injury	3cr
EDSP 476	Foundations of Behavioral Analysis	3cr

Rationale: Students preparing to work with individuals with behavioral concerns are increasingly being required to gain specific training and certifications by employers. The Behavior Analysis Certification Board is a national organization that provides certification for both graduate level and undergraduate level students. Undergraduates can attain the Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analyst credential by completing coursework, field hours and passing a national examination. The courses comprising the proposed certificate program prepare undergraduates to work with individuals of all ages, who demonstrate the need for well-designed behavioral planning. All the courses are currently being taught and cover the required content material to allow students to pursue the national certification. Having completed this course work during their undergraduate studies (the first of three requirements and the only requirement covered by IUP), our graduates will be able to sit for the national exam and begin the supervised field hours required, as soon as they are employed. This will be attractive to all employers who require the Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analysis credential (such as school districts, social agencies, private schools, etc.)

Rationale for Crosslisting these Courses: These EDEX courses are utilized by two programs, Special Education and Disability Services. The cross listing is being requested so, when offered, the course prefix reflects the program offering the course. The request is based on feedback from the Disability Services Five-Year review that pointed out the paucity of courses bearing Disability Services program prefix (DISB). There are only five courses listed in the catalog with the DISB prefix and only one of those courses is in the major. The outside reviewer's suggestion was to cross list the EDEX courses currently used by Disability Services to reflect the program's prefix given that no other substantive changes would need to be made in the courses except the addition of the new prefix and associated prerequisite prefix changes.

8. Department of Safety Sciences—Course Revision and Modification of Prerequisites

a. Course Revision:

Current/Proposed Catalog Description: (Catalog description not changing)

SAFE 100 The Science of Living Safely 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisite: Non Safety, Health and Environmental Applied Sciences Major and Minor
Examines the relevance, impact and role that safety plays in the world today, especially in the workplace. Includes the historical and scientific development of safety and health regulations, the impact of injury on society, identification of hazards and hazard controls in specific industrial processes, and the personal and ethical responsibilities that individuals have for the safety and health protection of themselves, others and their community.

Rationale: Since SAFE 100 is a Liberal Studies Elective, we must have the Student Learning Outcomes mapped to the Expected Undergraduate Student Learning Outcomes. In addition to, a measurement tool to assess those outcomes is being included.

b. Modification of Prerequisites:

i. Current Title and Prerequisites:

SAFE 330 Recognition, Evaluation, and Control of Occupational Health Hazards I 3c-3l-4cr

Prerequisites: CHEM 101; safety, health, and environmental applied sciences majors only or instructor permission

Prerequisites or Corequisite: BIOL 104 or 155

Proposed Title and Prerequisites:

SAFE 330 Recognition, Evaluation, and Control of Occupational Health Hazards I 3c-3l-4cr

Prerequisites: CHEM 101, safety, health, and environmental applied sciences majors only, PUBH-ENOC majors, or instructor permission

Prerequisites or Corequisite: BIOL 104 or 155

ii. Current Title and Prerequisites:

SAFE 361 Air and Water Pollution 2c-0l-2cr

Prerequisites: SAFE 220 or instructor permission.

Proposed Title and Prerequisites:

SAFE 361 Air and Water Pollution 2c-0l-2cr

Prerequisites: SAFE 220, or PUBH-ENOC majors, or instructor permission

iii. Current Title and Prerequisites:

SAFE 430 Recognition, Evaluation, and Control of Occupational Health Hazards II 3c-0l-4cr
Prerequisites: BIOL 104 or 155; PHYS 111; SAFE majors only or instructor permission

Proposed Title and Prerequisites:

SAFE 430 Recognition, Evaluation, and Control of Occupational Health Hazards II 3c-0l-4cr
Prerequisites: BIOL 104 or 155, PHYS 111 or CHEM 101 (for PUBH-ENOC majors), safety, health, and environmental applied sciences majors, PUBH-ENOC majors only, or instructor permission

Rationale: The prerequisites have been edited to facilitate the registration process for Public Health majors, thus not requiring them to receive an override to take this course, which is being offered in the Public Health degree program. The current prerequisites require the students to be a SAFE major. These changes to the prerequisites would now allow Public Health majors with a concentration in Environmental and Occupational Health (ENOC) into the course without an override.

b. Modification of Prerequisites:

Current Title and Prerequisites:

NURS 306 Problem Solving in Nursing 3c-01-3cr

Proposed Title and Prerequisites:

NURS 306 Problem Solving in Nursing 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisites: NURS 213, 214, and 236 or special permission

Rationale: The prerequisites are being added to this course. Students will need to complete all sophomore level courses prior to taking this course or receive special permission. Students need to have the clinical knowledge base provided at the sophomore level to be able to use the strategies being taught in this course effectively.

10. Department of Psychology—New Course, Course Revision, Catalog Description Change, and Course Title Change

a. New Course:

PSYC 250 Introduction to Applied Psychology 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisite: PSYC 101

Surveys the various settings and professions that require the use and application of psychology and psychological principles to solve human problems. Explores the types of skills required in the applied professions and the clientele served, as well as the theoretical bases for applied work in different contexts.

Rationale: This course is designed to educate students about the range of applications of psychology to broaden their perspective of the psychology field and prepare them for more advanced coursework and practica in specific psychology applications. The course will serve as an introduction to skills needed to be effective in an interpersonal context and will provide a foundation for development of more advanced skills in subsequent coursework. This course will be a requirement for the Applied Track in Psychology that is currently under revision.

b. Course Revision, Catalog Description Change, and Course Title Change

Current Catalog Description:

PSYC 450 Introduction to Clinical Psychology 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisites: PSYC 101, 320, and 321, or instructor permission

An overview of clinical psychology, with emphasis on clinician's use of methods of evaluation and on treatment and modification of behavior.

Proposed Catalog Description:

PSYC 450 Counseling Skills 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisites: PSYC 101, 290, and 321, or instructor permission

Introduces students to the skills necessary to be effective in a mental health service delivery field, as well as the foundational “helping skills” required to form a therapeutic alliance with a client and evidence-based methods of evaluation and treatment.

Rationale: PSYC 450 Introduction to Clinical Psychology was revised to broaden the course beyond the field of clinical psychology, as this is only one path available to students interested in a career in the mental health field. As avenues for clinical service delivery at the bachelor’s and master’s level have become more prevalent, the need to prepare students for these careers has grown. The revisions to this course will introduce students to the array of mental health careers available and will focus on development of basic clinical skills that are necessary for any clinical profession. This is expected to broaden the appeal of this course to students who do not intend to pursue doctoral study in clinical psychology, while still preparing those who do. The revision of prerequisites is expected to make the course more accessible to Psychology Majors, who do not typically take both PSYC 320 and 321, as only one is required. The addition of PSYC 290 is expected to ensure that students are prepared to understand and evaluate psychotherapy research, as well as limit enrollment to upper level students.

11. Department of Geography and Regional Planning—New Course, Course Number Change, and New Certificate

a. New Course:

GEOG 488 Geospatial Intelligence Capstone 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisites: GEOG/RGPL 213, 316, 415, and MLSC 204 or PLSC 465

Synthesizes concepts, skills and techniques learned in prerequisite courses in the Geospatial Intelligence certificate curriculum to develop an applied geo intelligence project. Includes spatial data acquisition, processing, analysis and reporting to geospatial intelligence tradecraft standards, as well as a culminating presentation of the project.

Rationale: GEOG 488 is being proposed as the capstone course for an undergraduate certificate in Geospatial Intelligence, which will provide students the opportunity to integrate the concepts and techniques learned in certificate courses. The rest of the required courses in the certificate program are existing courses.

b. Course Number Change:

Current Course Numbers and Titles:

GEOG 412 Research Seminar 3c-01-3cr

RGPL 412 Community Planning Practicum 3c-01-3cr

Proposed Course Titles and Numbers:

GEOG 498 Research Seminar 3c-01-3cr

RGPL 498 Community Planning Practicum 3c-01-3cr

Rationale: The course numbers for this crosslisted course are being changed from 412 to 498. Since these courses are capstone courses that a student takes near the end of their program, the faculty decided that they should have the highest number to indicate their sequence in the curriculum.

c. New Program:

Certificate—Geospatial Intelligence

This certificate prepares students to undertake the use and analysis of imagery, imagery intelligence, and geospatial information to describe, assess, and visually depict physical features and geographically-referenced activities on the Earth's surface for intelligence purposes. Students will learn the context, geographic information science, and geo intelligence tradecraft techniques to be well prepared to enter the workforce as an entry-level geospatial intelligence analyst for federal intelligence agencies or private intelligence contractors.

Certificate—Geospatial Intelligence

21

Required Courses:

GEOG/RGPL 213	Cartography and Map Design	3cr
GEOG/RGPL 316	Introduction to Geographic Information Systems	3cr
GEOG/RGPL 415	Introduction to Remote Sensing	3cr
GEOG/RGPL 424	Technical Issues in Geographical Information Systems	3cr
GEOG/RGPL 455	Advanced Remote Sensing	3cr
GEOG 488	Geospatial Intelligence Capstone	3cr
MLSC 204	National Security and Fundamentals of Military Topography or
	or PLSC 465 Intelligence Process and Policy	3cr

Rationale: The Certificate in Geospatial Intelligence is being proposed because of the many employment and career opportunities that exist in geospatial intelligence in the United States. The certificate offers IUP students the opportunity to become well-qualified for a career in geo intelligence by completing the certificate requirements. The Department of Geography and Regional Planning will seek accreditation of the Undergraduate Certificate in Geospatial Intelligence through the United States Geospatial Intelligence Foundation (USGIF), which will both verify that the curriculum meets intelligence community standards and will provide students with significant professional development opportunities.

PURPOSE:

When seeking funding from external (non-IUP) sponsors, a lead person known as the Principal Investigator (PI) must be named. The PI is responsible for overseeing all aspects of the project. This policy describes the qualifications required for a person to serve as a PI on externally funded projects.

SCOPE:

This policy applies to all individuals seeking external (non-IUP) funding who wish to be named as the project PI.

OBJECTIVE:

The objective of this policy is to provide guidance on who may act as a Principal Investigator on externally funded projects.

POLICY:

The Principal Investigator (PI) is the lead person on the research project and is responsible for the ethical and professional conduct of all aspects of the project, including being responsible for overseeing/managing all personnel to whom tasks are delegated, ensuring compliance with all applicable federal, state, and local laws and policies, and also for the fiscal management of the project.

The following positions/personnel are eligible for service as a PI on externally funded projects.

1. Full-time, tenure track faculty members; temporary faculty can serve with the approval of the Dean of SGSR and the provost.
2. Administrators holding the titles of president, vice president, associate vice president, assistant vice president, associate provost, dean, associate dean, assistant dean, and center/institute director may be named as PI on projects directly related to the mission and responsibilities of their units/offices. An Emeritus full or associate professor may serve as Co-PI with another eligible current employee of IUP. Emeritus full and associate professors may serve as PI, with permission of the Provost and Dean of the School of Graduate Studies and Research.
3. Doctoral students seeking funding for fellowships, tuition, or support of research leading to the dissertation may be named as PI as appropriate or required by the funding agency, but a full-time tenure track faculty member must be named on the project as a Co-PI when permissible by the funding agency. The faculty Co-PI will be responsible for monitoring and ensuring that the terms of the grant/contract are fulfilled.
4. Requests for exceptions for others within Academic Affairs can be made by the unit head with the written approval of the college dean, the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies and Research, the Provost, and the President.
5. For exceptions in divisions other than Academic Affairs, an application for an exception must be recommended by the unit head and approved by the corresponding vice president. All requests must be accompanied by the qualifications of the prospective investigator to serve in the role of PI on the respective project.
6. Exceptions may be granted on a one time or permanent basis, at the discretion of the appropriate divisional Vice President. The School of Graduate Studies and Research will maintain a list of individuals who have been granted exceptions (to this policy) to serve as a PI and the status of that exception (i.e., one time or permanent).
7. Approval to serve as PI can be revoked under appropriate circumstances (e.g., a finding of research misconduct). A decision to revoke would be made after review of the circumstances by the Dean of SGSR/Research Misconduct Officer, the Provost, and the President.
