Workstation Configurations

Minimum Standards for Fall 2001

approved 9 April 2001

The client operating system and standard software remain unchanged for the Fall 2001 semester. Therefore, the minimum workstation should be able to run the standard software which includes Windows98, Office2000, a graphical internet browser, and a graphical e-mail client. Recommendations for a new purchase workstation will be updated during late summer 2001.
