

THE CYBER THREAT:

THE NEW WAY NATIONS STRUGGLE FOR POWER AND INFLUENCE

Presented by the University of Pittsburgh Institute for Cyber Law, Policy, and Security

Wednesday, February 21, 2018; 12-1:30 p.m.; University Club, Ballroom B

Three-time Pulitzer Prize winner and national security correspondent for The New York Times David Sanger shares the inside stories of nation-state cyber conflict and discusses current threat vectors—what we know, what we don't know, and why they matter. Following the lecture, Pitt Cyber founding director David Hickton will lead a discussion with Sanger on the strategic implications and consequences of this modern arms race and take questions from the audience.

Lunch will be served. RSVP at cyber.pitt.edu/events by Thursday, February 15.

Questions or comments? Please e-mail Pitt Cyber at cyber@pitt.edu.

David Sanger

David Hickton

PITT CYBER

University of Pittsburgh
Institute for Cyber Law, Policy, and Security

The University of Pittsburgh is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution. 110918-0118