Program Description: The Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice offers students seeking careers in criminology or criminal justice a broad liberal arts education that encourages them to think critically about crime and justice issues and prepares them for careers in the criminal justice system. The degree programs offered are the Bachelor of Arts program in criminology and the Bachelor of Arts program in criminology/pre-law. The department also offers a minor in criminology. Through the School of Graduate Studies and Research, the department also offers graduate work at both the master's and doctoral levels. Qualified students can attend Act 120 training leading to MPOETC Police certification and earn 15 credits towards graduation. In addition, qualified students can earn a master's and baccalaureate degree in five years, known as a 4+1 program. This early admission to the Master's degree is available for qualified students, in which students earn graduate credits in their junior and/or senior years in Criminology.

Career Opportunities: Criminal Justice job projections predicted by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics through 2028:

- Criminologist: 9 percent, faster than average - Higher Education - median wage $82,050.00
- Police Officer: 5 percent, as fast as average - median wage $63,380
- Transit and Railroad Police: 6 percent, as fast as average – median wage $74,030
- Federal Law Enforcement Officer: 6 percent, as fast as average - median wage $58,673
- Background Screening Specialist: 5 percent, as fast as average - median wage $60,880
- Drug Abuse/Behavioral Counselor: 22 percent, much faster than average - median wage $44,630
- Probation/Parole Officers: 3 percent, slower than average - median wage $53,020

Student Organizations: We encourage all Criminology students to become members of the Criminology Association or the Forensic Science Club. Students who academically qualify also are recommended to join the local chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma (National Criminal Justice Honor Society). Student members regularly participate in fundraising and volunteer activities that provide them experiences that will improve their resume. Past experiences have included ride-alongs with various police organizations (Pittsburgh, D.C., NYC), prison visits, research presentations, and academic tournament participation at regional and national conferences. Additionally, in the past these clubs have organized their own individual and coordinated events.

Experiential Learning: Experiential learning is an important aspect of education. In the past, our students have enjoyed internships with the following organizations: U.S. Marshals Service; Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and Explosives; Ocean City Police Department; The Washington Center; U.S. Postal Inspectors; Philadelphia Police Department, as well as with many other federal, state, and local agencies associated with the criminal justice system and rehabilitative services. Additionally, students can study abroad in a host of countries or complete a "semester at sea".

Four-year Sequencing

The below four-year plan outlines the courses required in each semester of your baccalaureate degree. The goal is for you to visualize the years to come and understand what courses or other requirements are needed in order to graduate in four years. This also allows you to plan with your advisor for important engagement activities that support your higher education goals, such as planning for an internship, research, study abroad, and/or start a Master's degree during your senior year. The summer and winter terms are also an opportunity to take courses or accomplish other goals.
