

Notice to Faculty Family and Medical Leave Act

FMLA Information

The absence provisions described below are consistent with the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA) except where more generous benefits are granted by the State System. The FMLA requires qualifying employers to provide at least 12 weeks of leave (with or without pay) with benefits within a 12 month period for Sick, Parental, Family Care and Military Exigency reasons, and 26 weeks (with or without pay) with benefits within a single 12 month period for Military Caregiver reasons, as long as the faculty was employed at least one year and worked at least 1,250 hours during the previous 12 month period. Absences for the above reasons are designated as FMLA leave in accordance with the provisions of the FMLA.

Absence Reasons

Sick, Parental and Family Care

This is a paid or unpaid absence from work with benefits due to the serious health condition of an employee, the serious health condition of a qualifying family member when the employee is attending to the medical needs of the family member, or for the birth, adoption or foster care placement of a child.

A serious health condition is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either an overnight stay in a medical care facility, or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a condition that either prevents the employee from performing the functions of the employee's job, or prevents the qualified family member from participating in school or other daily activities. Subject to certain conditions, the continuing treatment requirement may be met by a period of incapacity of more than three consecutive calendar days combined with at least two visits to a health care provider or one visit and a regimen of continuing treatment, or incapacity due to pregnancy, or incapacity due to a chronic condition. Other conditions may meet the definition of continuing treatment.

Family member for this purpose is a spouse, parent, child, or other person qualifying as a dependent under IRS eligibility criteria. A parent can be a biological, adoptive, step or foster parent or an individual who stood as a parent (in loco parentis) to the employee when the employee was a child. A child can be a biological child, adopted child, foster child, stepchild, legal ward, or a child in the care of a person who is standing as a parent (in loco parentis); a child must be under age 18, or if 18 years or older, must be incapable of self-care because of a mental or physical disability.

Military Exigency

This is a paid or unpaid absence from work with benefits arising from the fact that a spouse, parent or child of any age is either a member of a reserve component or a national guard member on covered active duty during deployment to a foreign country under a Federal call, or order to active duty under a provision of law referred to in section 101(a)(13)(B) of Title 10 of the United States code which is during a war or national emergency declared by the president or Congress; or an active member of a regular component of the Armed Forces on duty during deployment to a foreign country. Military exigency absence may be used:

- a. To address any issue arising from notification of an impending order seven calendar days or less prior to the date of deployment and used within seven days of notification of the impending call or order;
- b. For official ceremonies, programs or events sponsored by the military and related to the active duty; or for family support or assistance programs or briefings sponsored by the military, a military service organization or the Red Cross and related to the active duty;
- c. To arrange for alternative childcare when the call to duty necessitates a change in childcare; to provide childcare on an urgent, immediate need basis; to enroll or transfer to a new school or day care; or to attend meetings or conferences at a school or daycare when necessary due to circumstances arising from active duty or call to duty;
- d. To make or update financial or legal arrangements to address the covered military member's absence while on active duty or call to active duty status; or to act as the covered military member's representative to obtain, arrange or appeal military service benefits while the covered military member is on active duty or call to active duty status and for 90 days after release from active duty;

- e. To attend counseling for the employee, covered military member or child provided by someone other than a health care provider provided the need for counseling arises from the active duty or call to active duty status. Note: For military exigency absence used under this section, the definition of child is a biological child, adopted child, foster child, stepchild, legal ward, or a child in the care of a person who is standing as a parent (in loco parentis); a child must be under age 18, or if 18 years or older must be incapable of self-care because of a mental or physical disability at the time the leave is to commence;
- f. To spend time with a covered military member who is on short-term rest and recuperation during the period of deployment. Up to fifteen days may be used for each instance;
- g. To attend arrival ceremonies, reintegration briefings and events and any other official ceremony or program sponsored by the military 90 days after release from active duty; or to address issues arising from the death of a covered military member while on active duty;
- h. To arrange for alternative care, provide care on an urgent, immediate need basis, to admit to or transfer to a care facility, or to attend meetings with staff at a care facility for a military member's parent who is incapable of self-care, when the care is necessitated by the military member's covered active duty; or
- i. To address other events arising from active duty or call to active duty status when agreed upon between the employer and employee.

Military Caregiver

This is a paid or unpaid absence from work with benefits due to the serious injury or illness of a servicemember who is a family member when the employee is attending to the medical needs of the servicemember.

A serious injury or illness is an injury or illness incurred in the line of duty or an injury or illness that existed before the beginning of the servicemember's active duty and was aggravated by service in the line of duty on active duty in the Armed Forces that may either render a servicemember medically unfit to perform the duties of the servicemember's office, grade, rank, or rating; or result in a veteran's medical treatment, recuperation or therapy. Servicemember for this purpose is an individual who is a member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, is otherwise in an out-patient status, or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, as a result of a serious injury or illness; or a veteran who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, for a serious injury or illness and who was a member of the Armed Forces (including a member of the National Guard or Reserves) and was discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable at any time during the period of five years prior the first date the employee takes leave to care for the veteran.

Family member for this purpose is a spouse, parent, child of any age and next of kin. Next of kin for this purpose is the nearest blood relative of a servicemember who has a serious injury or illness in the order of blood relatives granted legal custody by court decree or law or otherwise in the following order: blood relative designated in writing by the servicemember as the nearest blood relative for this purpose, brothers and sisters, grandparents, aunts and uncles, first cousins.

Absence Requests

All requests for paid or unpaid FMLA absences, shall be made at least two weeks in advance, if circumstances permit. When not foreseeable, requests shall be made as soon as practicable to ensure protection under the FMLA. This request shall be made in writing on the Request for FMLA Absence, Request for Military Exigency, or Request for Military Caregiver Absence form.

Eligibility

Some faculty may not be eligible to use FMLA. Eligibility is determined based on two factors: One year of employment and 1,250 hours worked during the 12 month period preceding the date of the first absence of each event. An event is a specific reason or medical condition for which an FMLA absence is approved. Regular and supplemental hours worked, and all military absence hours count toward the 1,250 hour requirement; other paid and unpaid absences do not count.

Once eligibility is determined for the FMLA event, the faculty member remains eligible for that event for the next 12 months as long as FMLA entitlement is available and the absence is certified, medically or otherwise, as required. At the end of the 12-month period, eligibility will be re-measured for each new or different event (except for military caregiver).

Absence Entitlement

Sick, Parental, Family Care and Military Exigency Absence

Faculty who meet eligibility are entitled to up to 12 weeks<sup>1</sup> of absence within a rolling year for all events. The 12-week entitlement for all events runs concurrently. If a faculty member has in excess of 12 weeks of paid leave, the entitlement is not limited to 12 weeks. Because a rolling year is the 12 month period measured backward from the date of each absence, a faculty member's entitlement can change by the day. Paid and unpaid leave for all reasons except military caregiver within the rolling year count against the 12-week absence entitlement.

For a birth, adoption, or foster care event, the absence begins upon the faculty member's request; however, it may not be used prior to the date of birth, custody, or placement, except when required for adoption or foster care placement to proceed. The event shall expire one year from the date of birth, adoption, or placement for foster care, regardless of whether or not the entire absence entitlement has been used.

Paid or unpaid sick leave is available prior to birth, if necessary, or after the birth when a female faculty member is unable to work due to childbirth as certified by a physician. Female faculty members who are incapacitated before or after childbirth are required to provide the Serious Health Condition Certification form.

Military Caregiver Absence

Faculty who meet eligibility are entitled up to 26 weeks<sup>2</sup> of military caregiver absence within a single 12 month period. A single 12-month period is the 12-month period following the date of the faculty's first absence for a servicemember's serious injury or illness. Up to 26 weeks of military caregiver absence is available for each servicemember and each serious injury or illness, but not more than 26 weeks may be used within any single 12-month period. Paid and unpaid military caregiver absences count against this entitlement. Eligibility cannot be renewed after the single 12 month period.

Use of Paid Leave

FMLA Absence

Upon commencement of each FMLA absence, all applicable accrued sick leave, except up to twenty days, must be used before any other paid or unpaid absence. Faculty may choose to save up to twenty days of accrued sick leave. The choice to retain or not retain sick leave cannot be made retroactively, and saved days will be measured based on accrued sick leave available at the commencement of the absence. Sick leave is only required to be used and may only be used for reasons in which sick leave is ordinarily used. After all applicable, accrued sick leave is used, faculty may choose to use accrued annual (if applicable) and personal leave. All forms of paid leave used, beginning with sick leave, will run concurrently with the commencement of and be deducted from the FMLA and military exigency absence entitlements.

Faculty members who are absent for a partial day shall be charged one half (1/2) day of leave against the days of entitlement. Leave will be pro-rated for part time faculty members. Per the PA Statutes for State Colleges and Universities, a faculty member cannot use more than 90 paid sick days in a calendar year.

Parental Leave Absence

A faculty member who becomes a parent may request to use up to 30 consecutive days of paid parental leave. These absences can only be used if the faculty member meets the FMLA eligibility criteria and has FMLA entitlement available; accordingly, use of paid parental leave will run concurrently with and reduce FMLA entitlement. Paid Parental Leave is not retirement covered and will not count toward retirement service credit.

Military Exigency Absence

Upon commencement of each military exigency absence, all accrued annual (if applicable) and personal leave must be used before using leave without pay. All forms of paid leave will run concurrently with the commencement of and be deducted from the absence entitlement.

Military Caregiver Absence

Upon commencement of each military caregiver absence, all applicable accrued sick family must be used before any other paid or unpaid leave. After all applicable accrued sick family is used, faculty must use all accrued annual (if applicable) and personal leave. All forms of paid leave, beginning with sick family leave, will run concurrently with the commencement of and be deducted from the absence entitlement.

<sup>1</sup> Any time 12 weeks is referred to it means 450 hours for faculty with a full-time standard work schedule; or a prorated amount for part-time faculty.

<sup>2</sup> Any time six months or 26 weeks is referred to it means 982.5 hours for faculty with a full-time standard work schedule; or a prorated amount for part-time faculty.

Intermittent or Reduced-time Absences

Absences for sick and family care, that are medically necessary, and parental and military exigency may be taken on an intermittent or reduced-time basis only during the initial 12 weeks of absence in a rolling year. For parental absence, approval for intermittent or reduced-time absences is at the University's discretion. Military caregiver absences that are medically necessary may be taken on an intermittent or reduced-time basis for up to 26 weeks within a single 12 month period.

For all intermittent or reduced-time absences for planned medical treatment, the faculty shall attempt to develop a schedule, working cooperatively with the supervisor, which meets the faculty's needs with consideration to the times that are least disruptive to normal operations, subject to the approval of the health care provider. Faculty are expected to continue to follow applicable procedures for requesting absences, including the call-off notification procedures.

Required Medical/Proof Documentation

Sick and Family Care Absences***

Medical documentation on a Serious Health Condition Certification form must be provided within 15 calendar days of receiving a written request for the medical documentation. The request for leave could ultimately be denied if complete information is not provided or the medical information provided does not certify a serious health condition. Recertification will be requested every 6 months at a minimum, for the duration of the leave of absence – even in cases where the Serious Health Condition has no anticipated end. Medical recertification may be requested as often as every 30 calendar days in connection with:

- intermittent absences, and/or
- upon expiration of the current certification, and/or
- upon changed circumstances.

A second and third medical opinion may be ordered at the University's expense. Failure to provide timely and complete documentation may result in the delay or denial of FMLA absence.

*Non-FMLA absences follow the same requirements for medical documentation as FMLA leaves.

Parental Absences

Proof of the child's birth, adoption, or foster care placement must be provided within 15 calendar days of the event. Note: To enroll a dependent in health coverage, contact your University Human Resources Office. Failure to provide timely and complete documentation may result in the delay or denial of FMLA absence.

Military Exigency Absences

For qualifying exigency absences, a copy of the family member's orders or other military documentation is required at the time of the first request. In addition, for each absence, a written request that includes the justification for the absence and the specific activity that will be performed during the absence is required on the Military Exigency Certification form. A copy of the Rest and Recuperation leave orders, or other documentation issued by the military with the dates of the military member's leave, is required when requested to spend time with a family member who is on short-term rest and recuperation during a period of deployment. Additional documentation to substantiate that the faculty performed that activity during the absence also may be requested. Failure to provide timely and complete documentation may result in the delay or denial of FMLA absence.

Military Caregiver Absences

An Invitational Travel Order (ITO) or Invitational Travel Authorization (ITA) is acceptable as documentation for the period covered by the ITO/ITA; however, completion of the certification form may later be required. Documentation of enrollment in the Dept. of Veterans Affairs Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers is sufficient. Otherwise, documentation is required from the servicemember's health care provider or military health care provider on the Serious Injury or Illness of a Current Servicemember Certification or Serious Injury or Illness of a Veteran's Certification form. Confirmation of the faculty's relationship to the servicemember may be required. Failure to provide timely and complete documentation may result in the delay or denial of FMLA absence.

Absences After 12 Weeks of FMLA Absence

The following are the only absence reasons that will be considered for approval beyond 12 weeks.

Full-Time Absences

Regular Faculty Members may request an extension up to nine months of leave without pay (LWOP) absence (except for military exigency and military caregiver absences) when the absence is full-time and contiguous to the expiration of the 12 week FMLA absence or any additional paid leave, elected to be used by the faculty member in excess of the 12 weeks FMLA absence.

Temporary faculty members or regular part time faculty members may request an extension up to fourteen (14) weeks of leave without pay (LWOP) (except for military exigency and military caregiver absences) or the remainder of their appointment, whichever is less.

Faculty members must request the LWOP in writing, and for sick or family care reasons, proof of the need for continuing absence must be provided on the Serious Health Condition Certification form. Note: Only one occasion within a rolling year will be approved.

LWOP extensions cannot be used on an intermittent or reduced time basis.

Intermittent or Reduced Time Military Caregiver Absences

Requests for military caregiver absence shall be approved on a full-time, intermittent, or reduced-time basis when needed to attend to the medical needs of a servicemember with a serious injury or illness during the single 12-month period.

Options When Not Eligible or Entitled to FMLA Absence

Faculty have the following options when they are not eligible or entitled to FMLA: Use available paid leave that was not used at the commencement of the absence subject to ordinary provisions for the use of those leave types; request to use regular/approved leave without pay subject to ordinary provisions for the use of this leave; return to work; resign; or apply for regular or disability retirement.

IMPORTANT: A faculty member who wishes to apply for a regular or disability retirement must do so prior to resigning or being separated from employment.

If an option is not selected, a faculty member may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including involuntarily termination from employment.

New Faculty

Faculty with less than one year of service shall be eligible for up to 13 weeks of LWOP absence without benefits for absences of at least two consecutive weeks. Note: Only one occasion within a rolling year will be approved.

Return to Work

Faculty should notify their supervisor at least 24 hours in advance of their expected return to work. If the Employee Serious Health Condition Certification form does not cover the period of absence, an updated Employee Serious Health Condition Certification form or other type of release from the health care provider to return to work will be required. If the health care provider releases the faculty to return to work with limitations, the job duty restrictions must be documented by the health care provider and approval to work with restrictions must be granted in writing before returning to work.

Return to Work Rights

A faculty member shall have the right to return to the same position held or to an equivalent position for which he/she qualifies before going on leave for a combined period of 26 weeks (12 weeks of FMLA and the first 14 weeks of extended LWOP) or for the remainder of a temporary or regular part time faculty member's appointment, whichever is less. If a faculty member has in excess of 26 weeks of paid leave, the faculty has the right to return to the same or equivalent position held before the exhaustion of the paid leave.

At the expiration of the 26 weeks, a faculty member has limited return rights. Regular faculty may be offered a position for which they are qualified, and for which a vacancy exists and the university intends to fill. If such a position is not available, the regular faculty member may be offered, during the remainder of the extension period, any position for which a vacancy exists and which the university intends to fill. Refusal to return to a position that is offered will terminate these return rights.

Benefits Continuation Information

Annual (if applicable), sick, and personal leave continue to accrue based on regular hours paid.

Medical benefits and group life insurance benefits through the State System will continue during the 12 weeks of an FMLA absence and the first 14 weeks of extended leave without pay, as long as the faculty member continues to pay any employee share of premiums. Missed premiums will be billed by the central office of the State System. A faculty member must contact their University Human Resource office to add any new dependents to the medical benefits within 60 days of birth or assuming custody of a child.

*In accordance with the Affordable Care Act, a faculty member may be eligible to enroll in the State System's ACA health plan upon the expiration of the 14 week benefit eligible period of extended leave without pay and during the 13 week LWOP for faculty with less than one year of employment. The ACA health plan is the Highmark PPO plan, which includes prescription drug coverage. The cost of the ACA PPO plan is not subsidized by the State System; if you elect coverage in this plan you will be paying the full plan cost.

Disability Accommodations

A Faculty member who wishes to explore the possibility of an accommodation for a disability should contact their University Human Resources Office. The approval of an FMLA Absence does not indicate, and should not be interpreted to indicate that you are regarded by the University as having a disability as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)
