

Pittsburgh Public Schools – Internship Announcement

The Pittsburgh Public Schools Psychology Department is excited to announce two internship positions for the 2023 – 2024 academic year. PPS psychologists work with a diverse population of students across multiple school buildings and a wide range of programs. The department engages in all the roles available to school psychologists including counseling, evaluation, intervention, and consultation. The internship program is designed to allow students a range of opportunities, as well as a chance to specialize in a specific role(s) of their choice given future career plans. Administrative, programming, and supervisory experiences are also available but optional. Supervision will be conducted in both individualized and group settings under a Pennsylvania Licensed Psychologist and Certified School Psychologist. Options to work under other site supervisors for breadth of experience will also be offered. The yearly stipend for this position is $20,000 with a work year from 8/1/2023 to 6/31/2024.

Interested candidates may submit their curriculum vitae and letter of intent to schoolpsychinternprogram@pghschools.org. Additional questions may be addressed to Bryson Bresnahan, Program Officer for Psychology at bbresnahan1@pghschools.org or at 412-400-8824.
