Workshop Descriptions

10am - Teaching Writing with AI – Dr. Bryna Siegel Finer

Attendees will learn how to: create writing assignments that "neutralize" AI, teach students to use AI in useful ways approach students who you suspect have used AI to generate work for them in a productive manner, and develop AI classroom policies that work for you and your students.

11:30 – 1pm- Luncheon in North Dining Hall, 11:30 – 1pm - Open Table Conversations on AI Teaching, Research, and Scholarship, Sponsored by SGSR and hosted by the Writing Center AI Advisory Board:

- Table discussions on themed topics:
  - Academic Integrity and AI with Cathy Dugan
  - Teaching and Assigning Writing in the age of AI with Bryna Siegel-Finer
  - AI and Creative Practices with JT Helsop and Dana Driscoll
  - Research and Scholarship on AI with Mahmoud Othman and Alexandra Krasova
  - Writing Tutors Responding to AI with Oksana Moroz and Willa Black

1pm - AI Empowerment: Leveraging Tools and Apps for Enhanced Teaching – Veronica Paz

This dynamic workshop is designed for educators seeking to integrate Artificial Intelligence (AI) into their teaching toolkit. Participants will engage in interactive sessions, hands-on demonstrations with AI applications, and discussions with peers and AI users. This workshop is an excellent opportunity for educators to discover and harness the power of AI to enrich their teaching.

2pm - Artificial Intelligence for Research Writers: Ethics, Affordances, and Possibilities- JT Helsop

This presentation recognizes AI as a powerful tool that aids researchers in their writing process. We introduce popular programs and their unique strengths, while highlighting the potential drawbacks and challenges. Finally, we conclude with a discussion of ethical usages and advice on how graduate researchers can utilize these programs well.

3pm - AI Assisted Research with the IUP Libraries - Chris Clouser

AI is here to stay, and research support tools and enhanced search engines using AI techniques and principles are already here. The workshop, designed as an overview for interested researchers, graduate students, and other writers, covers specialized tools available through the library, like Keenious, as well as some of the free-to-use and commercial AI research tools that are out there.

The AI Summit is organized by the Writing Center AI Writing Advisory Board. Sponsored by the Jones White Writing Center, the School for Graduate Studies and Research, the IUP Libraries, and the Writing Across the Curriculum Program.
