However, the motion was defeated by a two-thirds majority.

At this time, Chairman Gray suspended the rules of the Senate to permit I.U.P. President Wilburn to speak.

President Wilburn expressed his comments on the academic calendar for the coming year, indicating that he felt there was too much emphasis on the 13/14 week aspect. He was sympathetic to the matter of lapsed time and the matter of beginning the semester after Labor Day. President Wilburn indicated that he has decided to curtail the first semester of the 1976-77 academic year by three days, thereby permitting us to begin after Labor Day and end before Christmas, but basically supporting the principle of the fourteen week calendar.

President Wilburn indicated that consideration is being given to the revision of the 3/6/3 summer session; and that he would appreciate input from the Senate on such proposals as the 5/5 sessions, etc.

Senator Tompkins, Committee B₂ (Curricula) Chairman, presented the following for Senate information:

Actions by any of the sub-committees are reported to the entire membership of B₂. If any member questions the action, and the question cannot be resolved to his satisfaction, the full committee meets to confirm or amend the action. Otherwise, if no member of the full committee questions the action, the action of the sub-committee stands as the recommendation of Committee B₂ to the Senate.

- 2. Subcommittee B2C - Ad Hoc General Education - has distributed a questionnaire on possible General Education revisions to all Senators, Chairpeople, etc. If any are still outstanding, please get them in. They are being considered seriously.
- 3. Subcommittee B2B - Curricular Policy - wishes to re-emphasize that all curricular changes involving undergraduate course content or credit hours, or the requiring of courses in programs, must be brought before the Senate Curriculum Committee for its approval and Senate approval before they are instituted. University schools and departments cannot be permitted to effect unilateral changes in courses which will affect the University at large.

The motion was seconded by Senator Chaszar and passed by the Senate.
