REPORTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

President's Report

Good afternoon. I am pleased to be with you today.

Please join me in congratulating Dr. John Benhart, director of the Institute for Mine Mapping, Archival Procedures and Safety, and co-directors Dr. Phil Zorich and Dr. Lon Ferguson, on their success in securing $172,230 for the Institute from The Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. This funding is part of the System's continued commitment to regional development.

The core mission of the institute is the development of a locus of knowledge and expertise in archiving, digitally recording, and geographically referencing historical coal mine maps, as well as initiating new mine safety protocols based on the existence of digital mine map data products.

The institute also reflects a commitment to working collaborately across departments and colleges. I want to offer my appreciation to all members of the institute for their on-going hard work in advancing this important initiative.

I am also pleased to inform you that IUP's Eberly College of Business and Information Technology has been selected, for the fifth consecutive year, for inclusion in one of the nation's most prestigious guidebooks, The Princeton Review's "Best 296 Business Schools," 2009 edition.

This guidebook accepts no advertising dollars and uses independent surveys from current students, recent graduates and college officials to determine which colleges and universities merit inclusion. The book is a reflection of interviews with more than 18,000 business students from across the nation.

Again, please join me in offering congratulations to all faculty and staff in The Eberly College of Business and Information Technology on this achievement.

In the past, we have honored young alumni during homecoming with the Alumni Ambassador Award. This year, we will celebrate special graduates representing each of our six colleges during Young Alumni Day on Nov. 10, 2008.

The Young Alumni Achievement Award was created to recognize recent IUP graduates identified as being outstanding in their fields and to present such alumni to current IUP students as examples of exceptional achievement. All recent graduates of IUP of less than 15 years who have recorded notable accomplishments in their chosen profession are eligible for this award.

The recipients will be speaking to classes within their respective colleges on Young Alumni Day on Nov. 10, followed by the awards luncheon in the Blue Room. I want to thank all of the deans and faculty members who have worked with the Office of Alumni Affairs to identify these young graduates and all of the faculty members who have invited these individuals into their classrooms.

That evening, we will celebrate IUP's outstanding musical ensembles with the second annual "IUP Plays Pittsburgh" concert at Pittsburgh's Heinz Hall. The concert, which begins at 8 p.m., will be preceded with a dessert reception.

A great number of projects and programs are underway in conjunction with our Common Freshman Reader program. I want to thank all the members of the faculty who have incorporated this initiative into their courses of study and who encouraged student participation in the Provost's Essay Contest. I look forward to the "table talks" program on Nov. 13 from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Hadley Union Building. This informative and intellectually stimulating event typically draws upwards of 300 students.

Diligent work continues to advance the Kovalchick Convention and Athletic Complex. Please save Nov. 13 at 10 a.m. for (the groundbreaking and) a special celebration of a significant gift to KCAC from an alumni. More details will be forthcoming on this event.

Provost's Report

Dr. Intemann was unable to attend the meeting today, and Susan Boser gave the report.

Curriculum Revisions

In response to the Senate recommendations from the October 7, 2008 meeting, I accept the following:

From the University-Wide Undergraduate Curriculum Committee:

- A. Program revisions from the Chemistry department for Bachelor of Science – Chemistry, Bachelor of Science – Chemistry-/Pre-Med Track and the Bachelor of Arts – Chemistry.

The major revisions will be presented to the Council of Trustees for action at the December meeting.

Chairperson's Report

Welcome to the Senate meeting on Election Day 2008. If you haven't voted yet, I trust you are planning to stop on your way home. Let's try to move through today's agenda expeditiously so that everyone has time to fulfill his or her civic duty.

I wish I had lots to report on all the good things that are going on, but I don't. I've heard rumors and off the record reports of things both positive and less so that may or may not be coming before us in the coming months, I've seen budget figures that I need some explanations of, but, for now, I have nothing ... nothing at all ... to report.

So, we have a lot of things to vote on here today. Let's do it and then go vote in the process that really counts.

Vice-Chairperson's Report

The SGA held their semi-annual Speak Up IUP event yesterday, November 3. Vice Chairperson Fisher thanked the panelists for attending and noted the event had to be stopped as it had gone on until 10:30pm.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

APPROVED

1. Liberal Studies Committee Actions:

Approved Dr. Tiger Roholt, Department of Philosophy, for Type I Writing Status, Professor Commitment.

Approved LBST 499 Climbing Your Family Tree, Dr. Mary Jane Kuffner-Hirt, Political Science.

Approved the revised Liberal Studies component for the following programs: B.S.—BioChemistry.

Approved THTR 132 Introduction to Acting as a Liberal Studies Elective.

Approved CHEM 105 The Forensic Chemistry of CSI as a Liberal Studies Non-Lab Science Course.

2. Department of Biology—Course Crosslisting and Catalog Description Change

APPROVED

Current Catalog Description:

BIOL 401 Laboratory Methods in Biology and Biotechnology 2c-4l-3cr

Prerequisite: CHEM 351

Theory and practice in a number of major analytical and preparative techniques currently in use in physiology, molecular biology, and biotechnology.

Proposed Catalog Descriptions:

BIOL 401 Laboratory Methods in Biology and Biotechnology 2c-4l-3cr

Prerequisites: CHEM 351 or BIOC 301

Theory and practice in a number of major analytical and preparative techniques currently in use in physiology, molecular biology, and biotechnology. (Also offered as BIOC 401; may not be taken for duplicate credit).

BIOC 401 Laboratory Methods in Biology and Biotechnology

2c-4l-3cr

Prerequisites: CHEM 351 or BIOC 301

Theory and practice in a number of major analytical and preparative techniques currently in use in physiology, molecular biology, and biotechnology. (Also offered as BIOL 401; may not be taken for duplicate credit).

Rationale: BIOL 401 is the existing course incorporated in the B.S. Biochemistry program when it was developed. Since 1994, the course has been taught by biochemistry program faculty (from both the chemistry and biology departments) in the dedicated biochemistry laboratory space. The requested change in prefix reflects the reality of shared responsibility for the course. The current prerequisite, if enforced, will mean that cell/molecular track and biochemistry majors will be excluded since they do not take CHEM 351. The prerequisite should therefore be either CHEM 351 or BIOC 301.

3. Department of Chemistry—New Course

APPROVED

CHEM 105 The Forensic Chemistry of CSI

3c-0l-3cr

Designed for students who would like to learn about forensic chemistry and the basic science needed to understand it. Chemical concepts, on the level of an introductory chemistry course and their applications to forensic science will be explored in detail. Topics will include the forensic analysis of drugs, fibers, glass, fingerprints, arson, questioned documents and other types of physical evidence. Other topics will include how forensic science is portrayed in novels, movies, computer games and TV and the methods used in forensic evidence collection at a crime scene. This course cannot be used to fulfill the requirements for a CHEM major or minor.

Rationale: This course is intended for students in any major who are interested in Chemistry as it applies to forensic science. While the chemistry concepts in this course are taught in other introductory chemistry courses, their specific application to forensic science is unique. There is no other Liberal Studies non-laboratory course in the Chemistry department. This course cannot be used to meet the requirements of a CHEM major or minor.

Free Electives:10-12*Total Degree Requirements:*120

(1) 1cr each semester of senior year.

Rationale: The mathematics department has replaced its two four credit calculus courses MATH 123 and 124, with a three course series, MATH 125, 126, and 225. The biochemistry B.S. curriculum is being changed accordingly. BIOL 401 is being cross-listed as BIOOC 401.

The foreign language requirement is being deleted from the B.S. Biochemistry program because it adds little discipline-specific value to the program. Since the development of the biochemistry B.S. program at IUP approximately twenty years ago the acceptance and use of English as the language of science has increased. A survey of undergraduate programs in biochemistry at other institutions in our region (West Chester, Millersville, Kutztown, Edinboro, Frostburg State, Dickenson College, Juniata College, Franklin and Marshall University, The University of Pittsburgh, Duquesne University and Penn State) reveals that none include a foreign language requirement within the subject area courses. Likewise, a survey of 20 Ph.D. programs in biochemistry failed to find any with a foreign language requirement for admission or degree completion. A recent external review of the chemistry department included this evaluation a question about why the foreign language requirement was included in the Biochemistry program.

5. Department of Theater and Dance—New Course

APPROVED

THTR 132 Introduction to Acting

3c-01-3cr

Introduces the student to the art and craft of the theatre from the actor's point of view. Through practical application, students will develop personal and professional skills that will enhance oral communication, self-presentation and self-confidence. Students will also develop the ability to respond knowledgeably to theatrical productions as an audience member.

Rationale: This will be offered only to non-theater majors. It will help students to address the need for oral communication skills, a skill level expected by Middle States and included in a Pennsylvania wide agreement to accept oral communication skill coursework towards IUP LS requirements from transfer students. As a result, it is being submitted for inclusion as a LS Elective since there is no LS course in oral communication yet. This course content cannot be included in present courses offered in the department as all present performance courses in our curriculum are aimed at students who have been accepted into the major who already have acting skills, determined at the audition stage required of all performance theater majors.

Prerequisites: CRIM 101 and 102 and 12 CRIM credits, 2.5 overall GPA, and Junior Standing
A structured field placement designed to broaden the educational experience through observation and participation in work assignments in government or private sectors. 6cr can be applied to the major requirements.

Rationale: The old prerequisites are being changed from 'and' to 'or' to reflect the appropriate material needed before taking this course, as well as allowing non-Criminology majors to take these courses. In CRIM 205 the course title and terminology are changed from 'law enforcement' to 'policing'. Law enforcement is a function of government only, however, policing includes both public and private services, such as private policing/security. Since criminology, as a discipline, addresses crime and its prevention through activities and initiatives by individuals, groups, organizations, and government, a course related to "policing" is more appropriate than the government specific law enforcement.

In the courses where there were no prerequisites listed, the new prerequisites will ensure students have the necessary knowledge before taking these courses. In courses where departmental approval was added it is because these courses are appropriate courses for Pre-Law students who are not Criminology Pre-Law majors or students in the Juvenile Delinquency track, within the Sociology Department. Junior Standing is added to some courses to ensure students do not take this class before they have the necessary knowledge to succeed in this course.

(1) No more than 6cr of CRIM 493 may be applied to 39cr minimum in major.

Rationale: These current changes are designed to update and solidify minor revisions to the 2003 curriculum modification. The Department also found that many Criminology majors and minors are taking core courses when they are not prepared, due to non-existent prerequisites. Also, these changes may allow non-Criminology majors the opportunity to take classes in our department, besides CRIM 101, which is also a Social Science option. Lastly, the Criminology

Department adds CRIM 344 Terrorism as a Controlled Elective under Group B: Critical Issues in Criminology in both programs.

c. Catalog Description Changes:

Current Catalog Description Under Academic Policies:

p. 26 (2008-2009 Catalog)

To qualify for change of major, a student must be in academic good standing (2.00 cumulative GPA) and must meet any other requirements specific to the major. Criminology majors and all teacher certification programs have requirements beyond a 2.00 GPA.

Proposed Catalog Description:

To qualify for change of major, a student must be in academic good standing (2.00 cumulative GPA) and must meet any other requirements specific to the major. All teacher certification programs have requirements beyond a 2.00 GPA.

Current Catalog Description Paragraph p. 80:

Students who wish to change their major to Criminology or Criminology Pre-Law, or to minor in Criminology, must have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 at the time of application to be accepted formally by the department.

Proposed Catalog Description:

Delete statement

Rationale: Current Criminology majors and minors are not required to maintain a 2.5 cumulative GPA to stay in the program. Transfer students are not required to have a 2.5 GPA to declare Criminology as their major, nor do current Criminology majors have to maintain a 2.5 GPA to stay in the program. The Department believes this is unfair to current IUP students to maintain a 2.5 GPA to process a change of major or minor, when transfer students and current Criminology students do not have that same requirement. Deletion of the 2.5 GPA requirement will ensure fairness and consistency of treatment to all students interested in becoming Criminology majors or minors.

7. Department of Professional Studies in Education—Catalog Description Change

APPROVED

Current Catalog Description:

FDED 441 Field Experiences in Urban Centers

var-1-6cr

Prerequisite: FDED 440

Provides specialized experience for students desiring to teach in inner-city schools. Aspects to be emphasized include physical characteristics of community, background and aspirations of children and youth, and specialized teacher competencies, classroom management, planning, instructional materials, teaching strategies, and evaluation. Records of comprehensive experiences in urban areas are considered in making field experience assignments. Schools selected for student experience are located in Pittsburgh.

Proposed Catalog Description:

FDED 441 Field Experiences in Urban Centers

3c-0l-3cr

Provides specialized experience for students who are considering teaching in inner-city schools. Aspects to be emphasized include physical characteristics of community, background and aspirations of children and parents, and specialized teacher competencies, classroom management, planning, instructional materials, teaching strategies, and evaluation. Schools selected for student experiences are located in Philadelphia.

Rationale: FDED 440 Orientation to Teaching in Urban Centers is being removed as a prerequisite for FDED 441 Field Experiences in Urban Centers. We have been offering FDED 441 for 13 years without requiring FDED 440. This prerequisite requirement is from a defunct program that no longer exists and each year is causing registration problems for students who desire to take FDED 441. We would like also to change the wording of the course description to more accurately reflect the course as it exists now.

8. Department of Special Education and Clinical Services—Catalog Description Change

APPROVED

Current Catalog Description:

EDEX 323 Instruction of English Language Learners with Special Needs 2c-01-2cr

Prerequisites: EDEX 111, 112 or by department permission

Provides future teachers with the necessary methods to meet the needs of English Language Learners (ELL) in the classroom. Based upon knowledge of the behaviors, beliefs, and attitudes of a multicultural approach to learning, instructional methods, appropriate assessment and language acquisition techniques, and use of varied resources will be included.

Proposed Catalog Description:

EDEX 323 Instruction of English Language Learners with Special Needs 2c-01-2cr

Prerequisites: Admission to Teacher Certification

Provides future teachers with the necessary methods to meet the needs of English Language Learners (ELL) with special needs in the classroom. Based upon knowledge of the behaviors, beliefs, and attitudes of a multicultural approach to learning, instructional methods, appropriate assessment and language acquisition techniques, and use of varied resources will be included.

Rationale: Changes in the prerequisites are requested because the special education prerequisites initially listed are better met through “Admission to Teacher Certification.”

9. Department of Communications Media—Course Revision and Title Change

APPROVED

Current Catalog Description:

COMM 205 Media Presentation Skills 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisites: COMM 150, COMM majors only

Introduces students to basic presentation skills, emphasizing the use of media to enhance presentations. Students will research, organize and write presentations, design appropriate media and deliver presentations in various settings, including to large groups, on-camera and in groups with other students.

Proposed Catalog Description:

COMM 205 Making Presentations with Media 3c-01-3cr

Prerequisites: COMM 101

Introduction to basic presentation skills, emphasizing the use of media to enhance presentations. Students will research, organize and write presentations, design appropriate media and deliver individual and team presentations.

Rationale: The title change is to more clearly reflect the nature of the course and to provide students with a better description of the course when registering. The course prerequisite of COMM 150 is removed to allow students to enroll in the course earlier. The department has determined that students, particularly transfer students, have difficulty enrolling in many department courses because of prerequisite requirements. As this is a sophomore level course, it is one that students could take earlier in their course of study. The course content in COMM 150 is not required for the successful completion of COMM 205 and was primarily imposed to limit enrollment.

The course prerequisite of COMM majors only is removed as any student who has completed COMM 101 can successfully complete this course. This prerequisite currently restricts COMM minors from being able to enroll in the course without special permission.

University-Wide Graduate Committee (Senators Piper and Baumer)

FOR ACTION

APPROVED

1. Policy Change
School of Graduate Studies and Research
Catalog Start Date: Fall 2008

A change in the Publication of the Dissertation policy was reviewed by the University Wide Graduate Committee. The change allows for the electronic submission of dissertations in place of paper copies. Paper copies may still be submitted. The changes in the new policy are highlighted.

Rationale:

IUP began accepting electronic PDF files of the dissertation in lieu of paper copies for Doctoral Candidates during the Spring 2005 semester through the Electronic Thesis & Dissertation (ETD) Pilot Project, a collaboration between the School of Graduate Studies and the IUP Libraries. Submitting dissertations electronically eliminates the bound copy for the library and the plain-paper copy for ProQuest. Some doctoral programs still permit Doctoral Candidates to submit their copy to IUP in paper format. The pilot has proven successful with doctoral students and departments, with each graduation period since Spring 2005 seeing increases in the numbers of student submitting their dissertations electronically. In May of 2008, 21 of 40 dissertations (52.5%) were submitted electronically, and in August 2008, 29 of 44 dissertations (65.91%) were submitted electronically.

This Graduate Catalogue wording change is intended to inform graduate students of the electronic dissertation submission option. Instructions for submitting electronic dissertations were included in the 2007 Thesis and Dissertation Manual published by the School of Graduate Studies and Research. Students interested in submitting their Masters Theses electronically as part of the ETD Pilot Project may contact the School of Graduate Studies and Research (120 Stright Hall) for instructions.

Old Policy

Publication of the Dissertation

Following approval of the dissertation by the committee, a minimum of three copies of the dissertation must be submitted to the School of Graduate Studies and Research's Assistant Dean for Research. The dissertation must be microfilmed according to the plan provided by ProQuest Information and Learning. Guidelines are provided in the Thesis/Dissertation Manual, which is available from the School of Graduate Studies and Research and on line at www.iup.edu/graduate/assets/tdmanual.htm.

New Policy

Publication of the Dissertation (new wording highlighted)

Following approval of the dissertation by the committee, the approved dissertation can either be submitted electronically or in paper form to the School of Graduate Studies and Research. If submitting electronically, the candidate should contact the Thesis/Dissertation Office in the School of Graduate Studies and Research. If submitting paper copies, a minimum of three copies of the dissertation must be submitted to the Assistant Dean for Research. The dissertation must be microfilmed according to the plan provided by ProQuest Information and Learning. Guidelines are provided in the Thesis/Dissertation Manual, which is available from the School of Graduate Studies and Research and on line at <http://www.iup.edu/thesismanual>.

2. Variability in Delivery: Master of Science in Nursing at Memorial Medical Center, Johnstown, PA

APPROVED

Department of Nursing and Allied Health Professions

Program Start Date: Spring Semester 2009

Catalog Start Date: Spring 2009

The Department of Nursing and Allied Health Professions (NAHP) offers two graduate nursing tracks, Nursing Administration and Nursing Education. The NAHP Department proposes to offer the 36 credit nursing education and nursing administration tracks at the Memorial Medical Center campus in Johnstown. Alternating tracks will be offered on a rotating basis depending on applicant's interest. No changes to the graduate program are proposed. Given the number of full-time employees at Memorial Medical Center (MMC) who have expressed an interest in pursuing a master's degree on a part-time basis, it is expected that a cohort of approximately 20 students can be recruited to begin in January 2009.

Under this plan, the current MS in Nursing program will be delivered by teaching two courses per semester, and one per summer, in the evenings, to a cohort of approximately 20 students, in a fully equipped classroom on the Memorial Medical Center campus in Johnstown, PA. The admission policy and curriculum will be identical to the one in the current IUP School of Graduate Studies and Research catalog. The variability in delivery only applies to the program delivery proposed on a new off-campus site in Johnstown. The graduate nursing programs on the Indiana campus and at the Monroeville and Northpointe sites will remain the same.

Rationale: The demand for nurses, particularly nurse educators and administrators, is exceeding the supply. The nursing shortage is a chronic problem that has been facing health care providers since the 1990's as older nurses started retiring and with fewer nurses taking their places. It is estimated that the nursing shortage will reach 340,000 by the year 2020. This problem worsens as baby boomers get older and the demand for health care increases.

Our undergraduate nursing program is a high demand major. Many associate and bachelors of nursing programs have had to turn down applicants due to insufficient numbers of qualified faculty to teach in these programs. More educators are needed to meet the increasing demand for nurses. This program proposal will place IUP's Department of Nursing and Allied Health Professions on the cutting edge of nursing education in Western Pennsylvania. It allows us to be competitive by meeting the needs of the nursing profession by offering a competitive, cost effective option for graduate education.

Awards Committee (Senator Ritchey)

Budget Report – Dr. Wooten reported that there is considerable interest in the budget. The Fiscal Year 2008/2009 Educational and General Budget is balanced. Dr. Wooten also reported that the collective bodies of two college's chairpersons and APSCUF have submitted requests for significant data regarding the budget. In addressing these requests Dr. Intemann has responded to the chairs and Dr. Wooten expects to have budget data to the union by October 17th. VP Wooten reported that he and Dr. Intemann plan to meet with the deans and department chairs of the respective colleges to discuss the budget and university financial status. In addition, Dr. Wooten announced plans to develop a comprehensive budget development process that will integrate the planning and budgeting processes and will tie the strategic plan to a financial plan. This planning and budgeting process will help identify institutional priorities and will involve the creation of a University Budget Committee.

Dr. Wooten distributed and discussed a document pertaining to the IUP Amenity Space. This was in response to questions posed at the last Senate meeting. See the attached.
