TYPE I PROFESSOR COMMITMENT

PROFESSOR Anthony Farrington DEPARTMENT English

List up to three of the W courses that you have taught since your appointment as a Type I professor.

ENGL 213—British and American Literature Since 1900
ENGL 221—Creative Writing
ENGL 420—Writers' Studio

Using your most recent W course, discuss what the writing activities are intended to accomplish. You do not need to describe the amount of writing, frequency of assignments or fill out the summary chart for writing assignments.

I am currently teaching ENGL 325.W01—Poetry Writing.

The multiple drafts, journalings, critical essays, critiques, etc., are all designed with the goal of each student putting together a portfolio of poems, self reflection (on said poems), as well as writing a critical/scholarly paper on a contemporary poet ... Some of the course objectives are as follows:

- Produce and extensively revise creative work.
- Produce a polished portfolio of creative work.
- Produce a series of poems with a unifying theme.
- Produce manuscripts for submission for publication.
- Give effective peer responses.
- Reflect on one's growth, peer responses, as well as critiques.
