Part II. Description of Curriculum Change

1) New catalog descriptions.

GE 333 Trade and Transportation

3c-01-3sh

Deals with the spatial aspects of transportation systems and their use. Circulation, accessibility, time and distance concepts, and trade patterns are discussed. (Also offered as RP 333; may not be taken for duplicate credit.)

RP 333 Trade and Transportation

3c-01-3sh

Deals with the spatial aspects of transportation systems and their use. Circulation, accessibility, time and distance concepts, and trade patterns are discussed. (Also offered as GE 333; may not be taken for duplicate credit.)

2) This course is to be cross listed in both Geography as GE 333 Trade and Transportation and in Regional Planning as RP 333 Trade and Transportation.

Old Catalog Description:

GE 333 Trade and Transportation

3c-01-3sh

Deals with the spatial aspects of transportation systems and their use. Circulation, accessibility, time and distance concepts, and trade patterns are discussed.

3) Justification.

This change will support curricular flexibility by clearly identifying Regional Planning as a separate major, will improve graduation check out, and will move us toward our goal of program accreditation.
